About the Book

Ranger Diary Of Tet Khe Sanh Shau And Quang Tri is a first-hand account of the Tet Offensive in Vietnam, as experienced by US Ranger, Robert E. Whelan.

In January 1968, the North Vietnamese Army launched a surprise attack on American and South Vietnamese forces throughout South Vietnam. The Tet Offensive was one of the most significant battles of the Vietnam War, and it tested the limits of the US military.

Robert Whelan was a young Ranger assigned to the 1st Battalion, 75th Infantry Regiment. He was stationed at Khe Sanh, a remote outpost in the mountains of northwestern South Vietnam. On January 21, 1968, the North Vietnamese launched a massive attack on Khe Sanh. Whelan and his fellow Rangers were outnumbered and outgunned, but they fought back bravely.

Ranger Diary Of Tet Khe Sanh Shau And Quang Tri is a gripping account of the Tet Offensive. Whelan provides a detailed description of the fighting, and he also shares his thoughts and feelings about the war. The book is a valuable historical document, and it is also a moving personal story.
